NEW AIRPORT SPA FOR FRANKFURT

Lufthansa has upped the stakes in the airport “Lounge wars” by adding an exclusive spa at its new First Class Lounge in Concourse B at Frankfurt Airport.

The First Class Spa has two massage rooms where passengers can choose from a range of cosmetic treatments and massages, as well as an extensive bathing area with specialized ‘shower rooms, two of which have Jacuzzis.

The introduction of the First Class spa closely follows the opening of Lufthansa’s new Welcome Lounge at Frankfurt Airport, the first lounge of its kind in the airline’s worldwide Network.

The lounge caters for passengers arriving on long-haul flights and is for the exclusive use of First and Business Class passengers, as well as frequent flyer status passengers.

Spanning over 1200 square meters across two levels, the lounge offers a relaxation area, a bar serving snacks and drinks, a business area with work stations and internet and WiFi access throughout the lounge. An expansive cloakroom area comprises 28 showers for passengers to freshen up after flights, while an ironing service is also available.

BRAZIL GETS STRICT AT BORDERS

Brazilian immigration officials are becoming increasingly vigilant when accepting passengers for entry into the country. South African passport holders do not require a visa but must however have a passport valid for 6 months from date of return to South Africa with a minimum of three blank pages in their passports, a valid return air ticket, proof of funds and proof of accommodation. Clients are advised to carry with them all the relevant documentation when travelling. Some parts of Brazil require a Yellow Fever Certificate to get back into South Africa.
